

Walk 3 – The Chidham Peninsular

A straightforward walk (about 8 km) and absolutely flat around the Chidham Peninsular passing the old mill pond at Nutbourne - now drained and the west coast of the peninsular with its interesting birdlife and extensive salt marsh. At Cobnor point overlooking Chichester channel with extensive views across to Pilsley Island Hayling and the Harbour entrance and East Head. The eastern side of the Peninsular provides picturesque village of Bosham with its Norman Church and of sailing in Bosham Channel. The walk then turns inland across the peninsular conveniently passing the Old House at Home

At point B turn left and take the first footpath to the right, where this meets the road, continue to point C,

The Old House at Home where refreshment may be taken.

Follow the road north to point D

Turn left at point E on the footpath heading west until it meets the shore at point E where a right turn will take you back to the Prinstead.
